Open Call: Weiter Schreiben is looking for new authors

Weiter Schreiben*, the award-winning portal for literature from zones of war and conflict, is looking for four new authors for the project.

Weiter Schreiben (“Writing On”, initiated in 2017, invites authors living in exile in Germany to publish their texts on the weilerschreiben.jetzt platform. We are looking for four new writers who were already active as authors before their flight, have had at least one published work and write prose or poetry in Arabic or Dari/Farsi. Excluded from the Open Call are children's book authors, playwrights and authors who write exclusively in journalistic form.

Are you interested? Then please send us a reading sample (approximately 10 pages) in the original and in translation (if available), a short bio and a list of your publications. We will look at all the submissions and get back to you.

The four authors who are accepted into the project, will get the opportunity to get two stories or poems translated and published on our website in 2023. We will connect them with a German-speaking author, promote their work through our PR team and invite them to read at one reading.

Deadline: 1 April 2023

Send to: kontakt@weilerschreiben.jetzt

We look forward to receiving your texts!
Please share this call!
